學校 University	滋賀縣立大學 the University of Shiga Prefecture	國家 Country	日本 Japan
學校簡介 Introduction	We were the first among Japanese universities to establish a School of Environment Science in 1997. Since then, social situations have changed rapidly and greatly. Environmental issues, such as global warming, pollution in lakes and water shortages are our great concerns world wide. Conflicts rising from cultural and religious differences are spreading world wide, and so cross-cultural understanding is vital for keeping peace in the future. To accommodate such social changes and act on social needs, our university was reorganized as a public university corporation in April, 2006, and is no longer under prefectural control. Our emphasis on environment and human life continues to be relevant to the next generation. We welcome young people who are truly concerned with the future of the world.
