學校簡介 Introduction	Aeres University of Applied Sciences situated in the centre of the Netherlands. Formerly a part of the North Sea, the present Polder province of Flevoland. The programmes enable professionals to prepare for their careers in the knowledge domains of agriculture, area development and innovation, food, horticulture, agribusiness and animal science. The University has a staff of 95 lecturers. At the University about 1.800 students prepare for their careers, with an increasing number of international students. Each year about 150 international students train in the English-language degree courses, offered in close co-operation with business, universities and research institutes worldwide. Talent for growth. That is what Aeres University of Applied Sciences from the Netherlands stands for. Our university is rooted in the agricultural and educational higher education. We focus on education, research and sharing knowledge. This is how we contribute to the development of innovative professionals. Professionals who are capable of taking responsible decisions in a complex world, with a natural talent for acting sustainable. Aeres University of Applied Sciences offers Bachelor programmes, a Master programme and a three month course. We have three faculties in the cities: Dronten, Almere and Wageningen. We used to be two separate universities, but we merged in 2013. We share the same vision and mission, but we each have our own profile and identity.
